WORKSHOPS

Refined by God's Word

Annette Ragsdale
Teaching what God unveiled concerning Jesus Christ, which he gave to his angel to give to John to give to us is one super challenge!!
We will seek to unravel some of the mystery of the Revelation, discover some of the eternal promises of God for His people, and learn to rejoice in the majesty of God's plan for all nations. Two sessions are required.

Refined by Faith Sharing

Pam McDonald
The purpose of this workshop will be to explore ways to live and share our faith in so as to touch the lives of others with ours.

Refined by Faithfulness

Mary Jane Skinner
We will discover ways to select, prepare, and deliver devotionals that bring meaning and spiritual growth to our PW and congregational times together.

Refined by Spiritual Renewal

Patsy Chaney
Using the gospel of John as seen by the Celts of Iona, Scotland, the class will explore the spiritual approaches utilized and interpreted by the work of John Philip Newell, of Edinburgh, Scotland.

Refined by Mission Stories

George and Linda Bates
The Bates were comfortably retired and living at their family home near Natchez, Mississippi, when Hurricane Katrina struck in 2005.. Come learn of their amazing mission journey to the Gulf Coast. They have also worked closely with a presbytery in Brazil. They will tell you that we still live in an age of miracles. God still uses his awesome power to bring forth great things from very bad situations.

Refined by the Light (Stained Glass)

Kimberli Fougerson Cost: $10 Participants will have an opportunity to see some stained glass art examples that can be used as potential mission projects, and under the guidance of Master Glass Designer, Kimberli Fougerson, experience pressed glass work.

Refined by National Resources

National Office Representative
The National staff representative will lead a workshop sharing available resources and current ministries of Presbyterian Women

Refined Through the Artists' Eyes

(Historical Art Interpretation) Lynn Miller Throughout biblical history, the faith has been illuminated and explored through artists eyes.
The purpose of this workshop is to look at a variety of artistic expressions that capture key biblical themes, and introduce us to a deeper spiritual avenue for understanding and living our faith.

Refined by Music (Choir)

Ellen Jones and Amy Walton Join Ellen Jones and Amy Walton as they refine and create the Alabama/ Mississippi Women's Conference Choir for 2010. In two workshop times we will prepare several musical pieces for our worship times together.

Refined by Creating Art While

Transforming Lives: (Beadwork)
Melody McDuffee Cost: $10 Join Melody McDuffee as she talks about the pleasures and tribulations (both worldly and spiritual) of being a well-meaning, determined—but often clueless—American-African Queen Mother in a miraculous place where even dire poverty is no barrier to joy.
Follow her through a land where Western faces are about as common as pink zebras, and where Western business practices simply don't compute. Afterwards, create a one-of-a-kind piece of jewelry using the distinctive, colorful, recycled-glass beads for which her beloved Kroboland, Ghana is gradually becoming known.
